The ISO (International Standards Organization) is an independent, international organization who upholds worldwide industrial and commercial international standards.

The ISO 9001:2015 standard is an international recognition given to organizations who continue to uphold an efficient and effective quality management system.

The ISO 14001:2015 standard specifies the requirements for an environmental management system that an organization can use to enhance its environmental performance.

The ISO 45001:2018 standard specifies requirements for an occupational health and safety (OH&S) management system, and gives guidance for its use, to enable organizations to provide safe and healthy workplaces by preventing work-related injury and ill health, as well as by proactively improving its OH&S performance.

To become ISO 9001, 14001& 45001 compliant, SAFETEAM underwent an evaluation process that included quality management system development, a management system documentation review, audit and initial assessment which was very successful as no non-conformances were identified.

In achieving compliance with the standard requirements we chose a reliable partner – International Standards Registration (ISR) – a global leader in Testing, Inspection and Certification, delivering high quality services to help companies to meet the growing challenges of quality, safety, environmental protection and social responsibility. ISR reviewed our management system and provided certification to the standard as an independent third party specialist. It provides our clients with independent assurance that our commitment to quality permeates everything we do.

The ISO 9001, 14001 & 45001 certification is the assurance that we have robust, clearly defined procedures in place in all our business service areas handling of documents and data and strong business continuity processes.
